

Story starter

They were never far away from one another, the tiger and the Samurai. Their fates were surely bound together, hand in hand. It had been this way for as long as she could remember.

As they entered the cave, she wondered when they would see sunlight again...

Question time

- Look at the writing. Who do you think 'she' is making a reference to?
- Who are the tiger and Samurai? How are their futures linked?
- How do you think the two communicate with each other?
- What do the two hope to find inside the cave?
- What will actually be inside the cave?
- When will they see the light of day again?
