

Set A: Test 2

There are 5 questions.
Give yourself 10 minutes to read the text and answer them.

Planning a Birthday Party

Birthday parties can be a fun chance for family and friends to have a good time together. Here are a few tips to help you if you're going to have a party of your own.

Inviting guests

Firstly, think about the kind of party you would like. Do you want a small party with your closest friends, or a larger one with your whole class? Be sure to talk about it with your parents before you decide.

Where to have your party

When you've chosen who to invite, you can decide where to have the party. For a small party, you could invite people to your house. Large parties will probably need to be held somewhere bigger. Restaurants can be good as they provide tasty food. If you want to play games or have a disco, village halls are a great choice.

Things to do

It's a good idea to organise activities for your guests, especially if you're having your party at home. Games such as musical statues or pass the parcel will keep your guests entertained. Make sure you have lots of prizes so everyone gets a chance to win.

Have a great time!

1. What is the text about?

Tick one box.

- leaving a birthday party
- going to a birthday party
- planning a birthday party
- clearing up after a birthday party

1 mark

2. Look at the section called Inviting guests

Find and copy one word that means the same as choose.

.....

1 mark

3. Who might you invite to a small party?

.....

1 mark

4. Number these instructions in the order in which they appear in the text.

The first one has been done for you.

- Choose how many people to invite.
- Organise activities for your guests.
- Make sure you have lots of prizes.
- Choose where you will have the party.

1 mark

5. Tick each row to show whether each statement about birthday parties is true or false.

Statement	True	False
Large parties should be held in a small place.
Restaurants don't provide any food.
Activities will entertain your guests.
Birthday parties can be fun for family and friends.

2 marks

END OF TEST

/ 6